

ABSTRACT

A tamperproof occupant detection and alarm system for vehicles which when installed within any vehicle seat, and/or within a child's safety seat functions as a notification means to notify either the driver or passerby's that an occupant (such as a child or pet) still remains in the vehicle, including novel and unique safety features.